NAZI "CHAIN RAIDERS" BOMB LONDON

Today's War Moves

By J. W. T. MASON
British United Press Exclusive Cable to the Edmonton Bulletin.
GERMAN bombless visitations over the centre of London last night were retaliatory for the British air parade over Berlin the night before. The purpose was to show Germany considered herself competent to meet any British challenge to devastate the capitals. The only essential difference between the raids was that British searchlights picked out the enemy planes flying over London while British planes remained invisible over Berlin.

Both belligerents are thus engaged in a game of hide-and-seek, neither wanting to assume responsibility for bombing the other's metropolitan area, bringing down destruction on its own capital. However, these taunting, though easily lead to a real attack through over-exaggeration which might have dire consequences disadvantageous to both sides.

The British specifically deny their visit to Berlin have a retaliatory motive, which might be interpreted as an indirect suggestion.

Down Hungarian Bomber, Fight Russian Air and Ground Troops

BERLIN, Aug. 27.—Informed sources said tonight Germany might arbitrate in the Hungarian-Rumanian territorial dispute over Transylvania, possibly with Italian aid.

The Berlin-Berlin negotiations are taking the axis partners. Vienna would be the site of the arbitration meeting and German Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop would preside, it was said.

BUDAPEST, Aug. 27.—Rumanian armed forces clashed tonight with Soviet Russian and Hungarian Air Forces and with Russian troops.

A Rumanian fighter plane shot down a Hungarian bomber over Hungarian soil this morning, the foreign office announced.

At the same time, reports reached Budapest diplomats of a skirmish on the Russian-Rumanian frontier Sunday morning with the loss of hundreds of troops on both sides. At least two Rumanian planes were shot down, the reports said.

Bucharest was full of reports which officials refused to confirm or deny, that there had been encounters between Hungarian and Rumanian planes over the disputed province of Transylvania.

ROVED TO ULTIMATUM
Just two months ago Rumania bowed to a Russian ultimatum, agreeing to cede to the Soviet Union, Bessarabia and Northern Bukovina, as the Russians marched in early

HINT OF NAZI MASS ATTACK BRINGS YAWNS

British United Press Exclusive Cable to the Edmonton Bulletin.
LONDON, Aug. 27.—An evening news headline said today: "Germany has been attacked on the night of 27-28."

"Apert from attacks on Italian objectives, the main strength of our numbers there last night was directed against synthetic oil plant at Leuna, west of Leipzig, and the oil depot at Frankfurt."

"At Frankfurt an aircraft factory was also attacked and at Greinheim on the outskirts of the city, an explosives factory was heavily bombed. At Hoechst, Cologne and Leipzig, various objectives were attacked and supply depots at Hamm and Schweinfurt were also bombed."

"From these widespread operations, which continued throughout the night, all but one of our aircraft returned safely."

"Another is missing from a daylight raid."

Enemy Planes Attack Convoy Of Ships Off Coast Of Scotland

CANADIANS TO PLAY BIG ROLE IN OFFENSIVE

C.A.S.F. Classified Among Best Troops Available By Experts

By SAM ROBERTSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Aug. 27.—When the Empire opens its big offensive push against Germany and Italy, it is authoritative stated, Canadian overseas forces may be expected to shed their present role of defenders of the United Kingdom for a prominent place in the army of attack.

Prime Minister Churchill has said that the military machine being built with a view to transforming Britain's defensive war into one of offensive in 1941 and 1942.

IMPORTANT PART NOW
A high official who discussed long range strategy said the Canadians the completion of training them among the best trained and best equipped troops we have to hand against the axis."

In the present phase the Canadian 1st Division under Major-General G. R. Pearkes, and other Canadian units, are being trained in the tactics of the British army now defending the British Isles.

However, if Hitler's air offensive fails to knock Britain or her granitic knees—and officials are ultra-confident it must fail—the axis powers are expected to try a military adventure in another direction.

It must be realized that the collapse of air attack will not mean the end of war but only the end of one phase of the conflict.

OTHER POSSIBILITIES
The possibility of a foreigner of Hitler striking at Gibraltar through Spain in an effort to stem that doorway to the Mediterranean was also mentioned. Franco and the Spanish army are understood to be opposed to German overtures.

Spain's Fascist Falangists are strong for it, but possible that Italy's fascist forward Greece may be a cloak for thrust in some other direction. For instance, Mussolini could be preparing a push on Egypt, where a military reverse in Britain would strain the fabric of the eastern sector of the Empire.

LONDON, Aug. 27.—British bombers which made daylight attacks on various enemy objectives yesterday "greatly extended" their operations last night, according to a German broadcast.

ing 27 airbases in Germany, Holland, Belgium and France and other military targets, air ministry announced tonight.

The statement issued Tuesday night follows:

"Yesterday (Monday) R.A.F. bombers made daylight attacks on enemy airbases. The scope of these attacks was greatly extended last night. Twenty-seven airbases in Germany, Holland, Belgium and France were attacked and supply depots at Hamm and Schweinfurt were also bombed."

"From these widespread operations, which continued throughout the night, all but one of our aircraft returned safely."

Germans Employ Mass Raid For Night Assault—Little Damage and Few Casualties Reported

LONDON, Aug. 27.—German bombers attacked a convoy of ships off the coast of Scotland for more than an hour today.

Persons on shore saw the brilliant flashes and heard the roar of naval guns as the planes swooped for the attack.

Earlier a German raider which dropped a dozen bombs on a southeastern moor was chased to sea by Royal Air Force fighters.

LONDON, Aug. 27.—German "chain raiders" bombed the London area for six hours last night and early today in the longest raid of the war and attacked 500 miles of English coastline with the most intensive night raids yet directed against this entrenched island.

For the first time the Germans employed the mass raid for a night attack, sending 40 bombers to attack one town in northeast England. They dropped high explosive bombs there, demolishing two shops and killing at least three persons.

Today Germany resumed her daylight attack, as a wave of planes soared over a southwestern town.

One of the bombers from this wave was shot down by a Spitfire. The crew of three, unharmed except for scratches, were captured by a home guard.

Other scattered day forays were reported from the southwest. One Spitfire plane was shot down in the channel.

Little damage and few casualties were reported from the night-raiding.

THREE HEAVY RAIDS
The government said some bombs were dropped on one of the outskirts of central London and others in the suburbs. Several inmates of a prison in the east town were killed in that town's worst raid of the war, and a number of casualties also were reported in the midlands, where there were three heavy night raids.

"Meanwhile, British sea bombers were busy carrying the war to the enemy. The air ministry announced that 'R.A.F. bombers delivered a successful attack upon a number of important military objectives in Germany and Italy last night.'

"The Italians admitted loss on the part of their fleet in the night, a 40-minute alarm in the night."

NEW TECHNIQUE
The Germans in a new technique accounting for the record length of the London raid employed a force estimated at 50 planes which flew high over the capital at regular intervals.

War Unpopular In Italy Says Recent Visitor

CALGARY, Aug. 27.—James R. Reilly, of New York, world traveler, who arrived recently from Rome declared here today that the war is not popular in Italy.

Mr. Reilly was in Milan on business when the Royal Air Force staged their first raid about six weeks ago. He is on his way to San Francisco where he will spend the winter.

"The war is not popular in Italy," he said. "The Italian people have always recognized that Germany is their natural enemy and Great Britain is their friend. They have been fanatical Fascists who are in favor of the war against Britain," Mr. Reilly said.

"The Italians were greatly surprised when the British airmen flew over Milan and dropped several tons of bombs in the industrial areas of that city. They had been led to believe that the R.A.F. had been wiped out by the Germans during the invasion of the Low Countries."

Speaking of the men of the R.A.F., Mr. Reilly said: "They are the best fliers in the world and I saw one Spitfire shoot down eight German bombers one morning and they shot in one of the German planes down and drove the remainder out to sea. One of the pilots then dropped into a field to have a look at a big Dornier that he had shot down. He was as cool and unharmed as if he had been in his home airfield."

Mr. Reilly said he had been in the sea after a practice flight. He told that those chaps are wonderful."

THE STATEMENT issued Tuesday night follows:

"Yesterday (Monday) R.A.F. bombers made daylight attacks on enemy airbases. The scope of these attacks was greatly extended last night. Twenty-seven airbases in Germany, Holland, Belgium and France were attacked and supply depots at Hamm and Schweinfurt were also bombed."

RT. HON. R. B. BENNETT
Lauds R.A.F.

TORONTO, Aug. 27.—Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, former prime minister of Canada, wrote in a letter received by a Toronto resident today that members of the Royal Air Force "are not airmen but supermen."

His letter, written Aug. 13, read in part as follows:

"It is quite clear that every ounce of energy of the Empire is being poured into the air war. The conflict is ended. We are not suffering from lack of food. Despite the raids, people remain calm, determined and courageous."

"The superiority of the British airmen over the Germans was made apparent during the last few days. The truth is that these are not airmen but supermen, and it is a matter of great pride and satisfaction that there is a large number of Canadians in the British Air Force."

R.A.F. Drops 6 Tons Of Bombs On North Italy

British Planes Fly Over Alps To Attack Objectives At Turin and Sesto San Giovanni, Near Milan

By HOMER JENKS
British United Press Exclusive Cable to the Edmonton Bulletin.

LONDON, Aug. 27.—The air ministry said today that Royal Air Force bombers dropped six tons of bombs on Italian objectives at Turin, and Sesto San Giovanni, near Milan, during the night.

The communiqué said that the bombing started shortly after midnight and continued for 40 minutes.

The British bombers flew over France and the Alps on the 1,500-mile journey to Italy for the fifth time in two weeks.

The loss of one pilot showed that the first stick of bombs started at four fires and caused two large explosions. The second stick caused explosions and a third caused 14 fires, the ministry said.

The air ministry made the following announcement Tuesday:

"Industrial targets in northern Italy were again successfully attacked last night when for the first time a four-ton bomb was dropped on a factory. The first stick of bombs started at four fires and caused two large explosions. The second stick caused explosions and a third caused 14 fires in a time of 40 minutes, according to the ministry. He had had an exciting night."

"The objectives on this occasion were the Società Aeronautica Italiana Fiat works at Turin and the Magneto Marelli factories, which makes ignition generators, and Sesto San Giovanni, near Milan."

"The raiders advanced over these factories just before 12:30 a.m. In the next 40 minutes they dropped some six tons of bombs."

"The first of one pilot who made three attacks on the Marelli works stated: 'Weather fairly. No clouds. Visibility showed up target to all advantage. First stick of bombs started at four fires and caused two large explosions. The second stick caused explosions and a third caused 14 fires in a time of 40 minutes, according to the ministry. He had had an exciting night.'

may, for his oxygen supply diminished when he was over the Alps and he was able to obtain very little while flying three miles up. He carried on, however, and got over safely.

"Fire already was burning at Sesto San Giovanni and a great cloud of white smoke which was drifting upwards to nearly 6,000 feet guided him to the target. The moon was covered by a layer of high clouds and there was barely a glimmer of light. He was partly shrouded by the factors, but he made his attack and his bombs caused new fires on the west side of the works.

"The first works at Turin were set on fire early, and later after a further attack. One pilot who made a 10-minute attack, observed explosions for some time after he had left.

"Bombs from another aircraft were dropped on the southern end of the target. While these attacks were being made, two Italian fighters appeared, but did not interfere with the proceeding.

Rome Admits Fiat Hangar Hit By Bombs

By REYNOLDS PACKARD
Rome, Aug. 27.—British bombers, according to the Italian official communiqué, dropped a ton of bombs on the Fiat hangar at Turin, the communiqué said.

It was charged that the British planes came from Switzerland.

There were air raid alarms in Rome cities during the night. Italian anti-aircraft guns shot down one British bomber in flames over Milan, the communiqué claimed.

British bombers were said to have struck the Fiat hangar at Turin, and the communiqué claimed that one bomber was killed and another person wounded near Fiat where bombs struck two firms.

Italian planes bombed barracks at Sidi Barrani, Egypt, and mechanized units at Bir Seferzen, the communiqué said, and bombed a British convoy, escorted by motor ships, in the Eastern Mediterranean.

Swiss Government Protests To London

BERNE, Aug. 27.—The Swiss government today asked Great Britain "immediately and scrupulously" to enforce orders issued to the Royal Air Force to cease alleged continued violation of Swiss territory in flight to Italy.

The request was made in a note to the British foreign office.

The Swiss government met to discuss the "repeated violations" of Swiss territory after a night of flights across Switzerland, presumably by British planes, in which a number of persons were injured by dropping fragments of anti-aircraft shells fired at the high-flying craft.

In a dawn communiqué the Swiss high command stated that the times the planes crossed Switzerland and their direction made it "perfectly clear" violation of Swiss territory was "intentional."

(Switzerland already has protested twice to Britain over this neutral state.)

Two air alarms were sounded in various Swiss cities during the night and anti-aircraft batteries fired as planes crossed and recrossed the land.

Animal Protection

LIVERPOOL, England.—The Lancashire, Cheshire, and North Derbyshire County Councils today reported that it has registered five million animals—from cats in ones and twos to whole herds of cattle for protection from air raids.

"Therefore in all Italy today regarding Egypt as carrying a direct and serious threat that takes steps to eliminate that threat."

"Italy is confronted with a tragic and grotesque political paradox in Egypt," Count Ciano's newspaper said.

"The Egyptians are friends while they give hospitality to our British forces."

Asserting that there were 60,000 Italians in Egypt, the newspaper continued:

"For us the friendship of the Egyptians and the threat coming from them are inseparable."

"The only way to achieve the Egyptian problem is by means of Marshal Graziani's army."

"The Italian commander in chief in north Africa."

"This blunt warning given yesterday on the occasion of the fourth anniversary of the signing of the Italian-Egyptian friendship pact."

"It was believed might be a subtle warning to the British."

"A more formal ultimatum would be difficult to serve, since Italy and Egypt have broken off diplomatic relations."

"Italian air raids on Egypt so far have been limited to attacks against the British, rather than the Egyptians."

"Some of the raiders, far above the balloon barrage, kept as high as 70,000 feet—almost four miles—and appeared as tiny silvery specks as anti-aircraft search lights picked them out."

"These kept coming approaching from the north, and dropping over the metropolitan area and then departing, apparently only to appear later again at a scheduled interval."

Your Baby And Mine

If a mother is to stick faithfully to four hour feedings, it is important that she feed her baby with meals. A bottle of milk, a piece of bread and butter are foods, and all foods should be served at the regular meal. The only exception is fruit juice which, from infancy until baby is past the first year, is given an hour or so before a meal rather than right at the meal.

Here is one of my constant readers who is breaking that feeding rule. She wants me to tell her how to feed her baby.

She is "getting along" and she says that he is 11 months old, weighs 22 pounds and has 7 teeth. So far, very good indeed.

But, "He wakes at six and wants his orange juice and not liver oil immediately. At 8 a.m. he gets cereal and milk from a cup and at 10:30 gets a bottle and goes to bed for a nap of 1½ hours."

At noon he gets vegetables, baked potato, fruit and milk from a cup. At 2 p.m. he gets another bottle of milk and sleeps for 1½ hours. At 5:30 gets a hard-boiled egg, cereal and milk from a cup and is in bed by 6:30. Is he too young to be taught good habits?

This would be a fine program if it were not for those little unnecessary bottles. The boy gets milk by cup with each meal. If this does not total 32 ounces, it is impossible.

Use "home milk" in the morning, as a snack over the vegetables, in the evening. Let him get to sleep with a drink of water. If he must have two naps a day, instead of just one following the noon meal, he may have half a glass of milk and a cracker when he wakes from this afternoon nap if this does not suit you.

In addition to all he is getting, he can have liver soup, cottage cheese, mashed banana, scraped beef or lamb, and white meat of chicken, or boneless fish. The meat and fish, chicken and cottage cheese and liver soup can substitute for the egg, the mashed banana for the morning or evening dish of cereal.

Our reader, "Types of Stools" can inform you of the normal stool of a baby. Send for a free copy, enclosing self-addressed envelope, stamped "Mr. Editor of the Your Baby and Mine Department in care of this newspaper."

Mattie Meyer Blazed out another good question about the general care and management of children if you will send a three-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope to Mr. Editor of the Your Baby and Mine Department in care of this newspaper.

Tamale Pie Provides New Tasty Food Treat

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX
Remember the song about Captain Jack of the Horse Marines who fed his horse on corn and beans? He had a good understanding of low cost nutrition. Right now, with plenty of left-over corn in every refrigerator, it might be wise to feed your charges with a large bowl of tender succotash.

SUCOTASH
One-fourth pound salt pork, 1 cup water, 3 large ears of corn or

Two and 2-3 cups canned pork and beans, 2-3 cups water, 2-3 cups sliced frankfurters, 2 tablespoons brown sugar, ½ teaspoon dry mustard, 1 tablespoon butter.

Mix pork and beans with water and sliced frankfurters and mustard. Turn into buttered casserole. Sprinkle with brown sugar, bake in a moderately hot oven (375° F.) for about 25 minutes.

There are, however, certain basic things that a man does well to observe when he is hunting. First of these, I think, is health. Common sense tells us that a well and strong man looks at a girl who is hard to get along with and thinks she is worth the effort.

So, before you pop the question, decide just what qualities you want in a wife. For girls don't change after marriage. They are just what they always were, only more so.

Also, a man's happiness in marriage doesn't depend on what she is. It depends on his having what he wants in a wife. Wives are purely a matter of personal taste.

Dorothy Dix Says:

Dear Miss Dix—You recently gave a girl some advice on how to pick a man who would make her a good husband. Now please tell me to pick out a girl he will make a good wife.

A FAITHFUL READER

Answer—Well, if I were a boy contemplating matrimony I would first try to make up my mind about what kind of a wife I wanted. Not every man needs a wife who is a moderately well-to-do. He desires the same type of wife as you would care for a truck, no matter how good it was. Nor, if you needed the truck, would the sports car be of any service to you. Same way with wives.

Your Figure, Madame!

By IDA JEAN KAIN

A leading doctor has come out with the startling message: "If you don't keep your figure, you won't work, that there isn't enough work in modern housekeeping to keep a woman down. And that's the reason, he contends, there are more fat women than fit ones."

Wait now, it seems to us that the good doctor's deductions are wrong. It isn't that women don't work, it's that they don't want to. Housework is not reducing and never was. The old-fashioned housewife certainly did not enjoy her labor-saving devices and she was not streamlined then the modern Miss.

The big reason of housework was the small number of the house for food and dress and not many many clothes. Washing, dishes, peeling potatoes, mending and the endless sewing and mending, were not so much a part of the day's routine.

The greatest exchange of energy takes place in the large muscles, scrubbing floors, sweeping, washing windows, and so on. These large muscles but these tasks are not usually part of the day's routine.

But, he would think about housework in that the housewife of around 1900 was much of the time that she was doing housework. The overall fact, however, is that the housewife of today is not doing housework. She is doing housework in a different way. She is doing housework in a different way. She is doing housework in a different way.

INDIANS SNAP LOSING STREAK AT FOUR GAMES

Feller Helps Harder Down Senators 4-3

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Cleveland Indians seemed in danger of losing the American Baseball League lead after a four-game losing streak last week-end. But they stopped it yesterday by edging out Washington Senators 4-3 while both second-place Detroit Tigers and third-place New York Yankees were kept idle by rain. As a result, the Indians increased their advantage over the Tigers to three games and over the Yanks to 7½.

Meanwhile Cincinnati Reds split a double bill with Philadelphia Phillies without harming their 7½ game advantage in the National League because Brooklyn Dodgers also were rained out.

Cleveland's conquest of the Senators was made possible by Bob Feller although he didn't get credit for the game. The fireballer went to the rescue of Mel Harder, the seventh and shutout the Senators in the last three innings.

Bucky Walters pitched and bailed the Reds to a 3-2 victory in the first game. He held the tailenders to five hits and batted in two of Cincinnati's own runs, one with a homer. It was Bucky's 18th win.

Sylvester Johnson, the 39-year-old, retailed in the nightcap with a three-hit performance that left the Reds gasping.

Carl Hubbell made his third appearance in four days and saved New York Giants a 10-5 verdict over Chicago Cubs. Hub pitched five shutout innings.

Another fine relief showing was that of Boston's Jim Bagby in beating the Red Sox to a 7-4 decision over St. Louis Browns. He allowed only two hits in the last 6-2-3 innings.

Boston Bucs blazed more water on the St. Louis Cardinals' confidence by winning a night game 5-1.

Old 'Sabertooth' Griffing Provides Fire Behind Regina's Conference Entry

REGINA, Aug. 27.—Regina Roughriders are Western Football Conference contenders again this season because Big Dean Griffing and members of the club executive refused surrender in a financial crisis. For weeks it appeared Regina would be forced to follow the lead of Edmonton Eskimos and drop from the union for duration of the war because of financial difficulties, but Griffing, 210-pound snapper who came from Kansas State College in 1936 to coach and play for Riders, refused to admit defeat.

With Big Dean promising to field a team if he had to play every position himself, such executives as Manager Jack Lockhart and N. J. "Piffles" Taylor set out to arouse the public. They sold $10 club memberships arranged to finance the $5,000 1939 deficit. Somehow they gained sufficient support and Riders are in the league which opens Friday with Winnipeg at Calgary.

Last year's Roughriders came from North Dakota to take over the Regina franchise from Griffing but the club soon found itself in a financial crisis. Griffing, who coached Riders to their last western title in 1936, at the time again aided by the great quarterback who came here with him from Kansas, Jim Luff, who has made a most valuable player in the west.

LOSE TWO ALL-STARS
Roughriders have lost the two men who represented them on the 1939 Canadian Pro Football Conference. Halfback Howard Clifford and Outside Wing Rollo Eberg.

With players from their United States homes last season and with them went the club's outstanding offensive combination.

Cleveland was a fine kicker, punner and ball-carrier. Eberg, a great defensive end, was also one of the conference's most dangerous pass receivers. Another great loss was Harry Guest, another halfback who is now with the Royal Canadian Air Force.

But Griffing, building his backfield around Luff, has acquired a promising recruit in Norm Gellon, full halfback who was a sensational junior in Winnipeg the past two seasons. Replacing Eberg at end is Martin Platz, 150-pounder who became a star last year in his first season with the Canadian champion, Winnipeg Blue Bombers.

THE MAIL CARRIER
Geller will probably do most of the ballcarrying with Luff and Luff's half, veteran of two years with Queen's University, Kingston, Ont. Tex. Craymes, former D. Dan Munn, line, fullback, and Dan Craymes, a clever Regina junior graduate.

"We've got the spirit," says Griffing. "They've got the spirit of boys like this down. We'll have a good football team."

IRON CENTRE
The formidable line bears him out. With Dean Snapping off offense and playing secondary defense the centre a well filled. Bob Walker, former University of North Dakota star and veteran of six years with Regina, is in his usual berth at middle line. The 200-pound Tour Springfield on the other wing. The veterans Dick Bell and Johnny Spradley, the Mickey Myles deal was dead bed 4, even as a

Greyhound All Through For This Year At Least

SYRACUSE, N.Y., Aug. 27.—Greyhound, world's greatest trotter, won his last race Monday—but it's anyone's guess just what that word "last" means. Trainer-driver Sep Palm said: "Yep, it's his last race—this season."

The Trotting Horse Club of America was authorized last week for the statement that Monday would be the great trotter's final competition, and Palm was told so.

"There's all something left for the old boy to do," was Palm's cryptic rejoinder to that. He wouldn't say more.

It was the considered opinion of a number of veteran harness men today that Greyhound would no longer race. But perhaps that was wishful thinking because the seven-year-old gelding is a "final farewell" campaign. This season he cleaned up on the Grand Circuit with six victories in a row, all with a time of but one heat Monday.

As to his being Greyhound's final race, it certainly was the last one he will race. But he has been hounded this season. The series he completed Monday was the result of agitation by "hobbyhounds" rather than his first retirement in 1938.

After losing the initial heat to the great Astra Monday, the great Greyhound came back to take the second and third heats handily.

After Astra, the veteran Sep Palm, in Peter Astra and Deacon out on the early pace and then the champion had more than enough to come from behind and win breezily.

A driving double was scored by J. Brown, who piloted Withington, owned by A. Fletcher of Westwood, N.J., to victory in the 2:17 pace, and came back with a triumph behind Astra in the 2:15 1/2 mile. ## CANADA TEAM STILL LEADS U.S. TYPISTS

TYMOROTO, Aug. 27.—The Canadian typing team maintained a lead in the International Typewriter Marathon at the Canadian National Exhibition Monday night despite a serious error of a team member.

Golden Hillier of Edmonton, one of the fastest of the Canadians, missed an entire page of the contest when she turned over two pages instead of one and her team lost 1,000 words.

The scores after 24½ hours of typing:

Canada: 308,772 words.
U.S.: 306,000 words.
United States: 308,971 words.
The Canadian team is northeast of the U.S. team.
